The Village of Pelham's own Sergio's Ristorante was one of nine restaurants in the New York area named to OpenTable's 100 top places in America to dine in 2021, after the online restaurant reservation service analyzed more than 10.5 million reviews to make the selections.

"We are grateful for all our patrons and especially recognize the continuous support we've received from the Pelham community," said Alban Gashi, managing partner of Sergio's. "We look forward to providing great service and food for many years to come."

In making the announcement, OpenTable said, "As more and more people return to dining out, OpenTable is excited to bring back its Top 100 restaurants in America for 2021. The result is a selection of spots across the country that constantly serve up creative dishes, unparalleled hospitality and one-of-a-kind dining experiences for all occasions."
